

Remote teams & technology solutions for entrepreneurs.

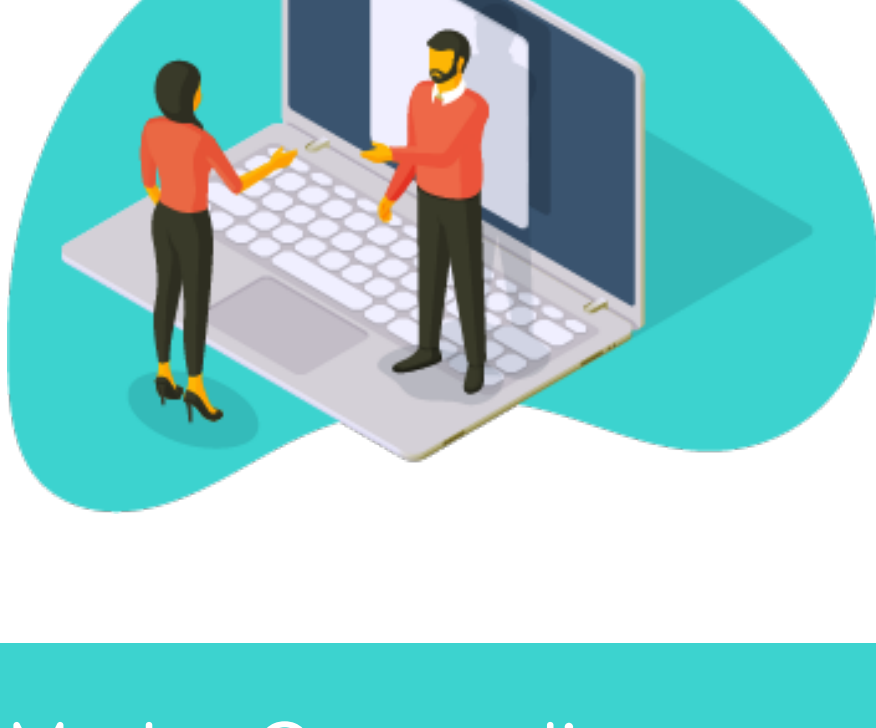

Get in Contact

Image

Placeholder

Company Goal

The main company goal is to help tech companies (ideally early-stage start-up) turn their business ideas into technological solutions using remote engineers. Also known as Staff Augmentation services.

Modus Operandi

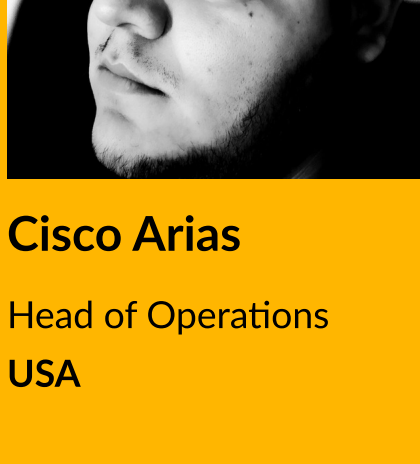

We do technical screening and emotional intelligence screening to make sure the engineers we send over companies as able to share their ideas with business and tech people alike. We believe communication is one of the pillars in any successful company, being able to express ideas coherently and with the proper degree of tact.

Engineers we hired are required to be proficient English speakers, and they will be added to the client's Slack (or company messaging tool of choice) directly.

All is on month-to-month basis and if a client is not happy with the engineer we placed, we will try to find a better fit and if it's not possible we will cancel the contract. There's no long-term commitment

If Clients want to directly hire the engineer, we also have a finder's fee mode where we charge 30% of the engineer annual salary as commission for finding the talent.

Our Team

Cisco Arias

Head of Operations
USA

Facundo Rossi

Head of Operations
Latin America

Dmitry Kireev

SRE (Site Reliability
Engineer) Advisor
Global

Contact

All fields required to send

Your Name

Email Address

Message

Send